

A collection of five wonderful short stories on five values

LIFE'S LITTLE MAGICAL FORMULAS

by Zoya

Zawadi - Gratitude

MEET
THE CHARACTERS

Safari - Perseverance

Bakai - Generosity

Elewe - Respect

Imani - Honesty

Life's Little Magical Formulas by Zoya is a collection of five short stories which have been written so as to help children create and have a magical life by teaching them the moral values of gratitude, perseverance, generosity, respect and honesty. The stories are set in Maasai Mara and the characters of the book are The Big Five. By reading these stories, the author hopes to encourage children to follow the morals each character shows in the book.

The book also creates an opportunity for children and their parents / guardians to create a magical life together. By dedicating the Author's Note to the parents / guardians and including a star reward sheet in the book, the author has created such an opportunity.

Zoya will be visiting The Aga Khan Academy Mombasa (Junior School) to have book reading workshops with the children. The workshops aim to inspire the children to create and have a magical life by following the values which have been written about in the book.

With regards to the structure, the workshops are fun and interactive which benefits the children even more. During the session, in addition to reading the stories from my book, Zoya will also do activities with the children.

With the younger children, the activities are designed to help the children understand the values, thereby enabling them to demonstrate these values in their everyday life.

With the older children, in addition to helping the children understand the importance of these values, Zoya will focus upon enhancing their creative writing skills. The stories of Life's Little Magical Formulas have been written to capture the attention of the reader and using the book as a point of reference, the children will gain an insight as to how their writing can too capture the attention of the reader.

To go on this magical journey, get a copy at a special price of

KES 850/-

I shall be visiting The Aga Khan Academy Mombasa (Junior School)
on 5th March 2020.

In Kenya, within the Great Rift Valley lies the green grassy and acacia-studded landscape of Maasai Mara. It is home to the brave Maasai warriors and to many different animals including five friends known as The Big Five.

The nights in this land are special because every night before bedtime all the animals gather around a bonfire. Snuggled up close together, the animals eat yummy toasted marshmallows and drink hot chocolate. Tonight is going to be even more special because The Big Five will share how to make our lives magical.

Life's Little Magical Formulas is a collection of their five wonderful short stories.

For more information about Life's Little Magical Formulas, visit www.magicalleozlimited.com.

ISBN 978-9966-820-25-9

9 789966 820259

