

The Nakuru Oncology Centre

One year later

LEARN MORE ▶

NEWS

N

HOME

TOP NEWS

CHILLAX

LIFE

HUSTLE

SPORTS

BLOG

LIFE | MUST READ

17-year-old Kenyan student wins global award for sanitary towels innovation

By Diana Mutheu
August 14th, 2019 • 2 min read

Share this

Murang'a University Technology

Office of the Registrar, Academic Student Affairs

SEPTEMBER 2019 INTAKE

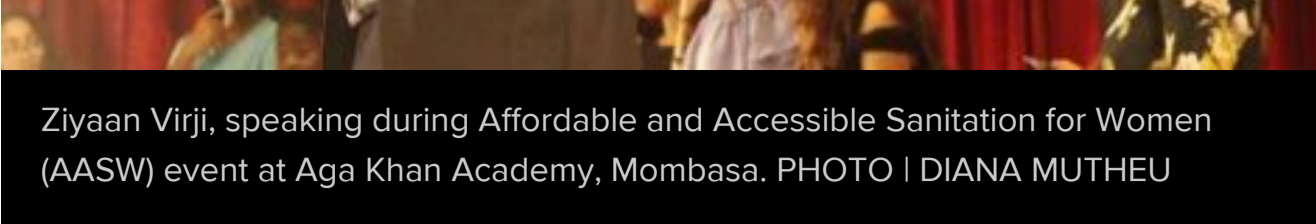

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS | SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING
TECHNOLOGY | SCHOOL OF PURE AND APPLIED SCIENCES | SCHOOL OF
HEALTH SCIENCES | SCHOOL OF HOSPITALITY AND TOURISM | SCHOOL OF
COMPUTING AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY | SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Latest Stories >

Wend
Waeni forme mana speak out on

Ziyaan Virji, speaking during Affordable and Accessible Sanitation for Women (AASW) event at Aga Khan Academy, Mombasa. PHOTO | DIANA MUTHEU

EGERTON UNIVERSITY

Applications are invited for all programmes:

Over 150 programmes are offered in our Faculties at:

- Njoro (Main Campus)
- Nakuru Town Campus College
- E-Campus

LEARN MORE ▶

A 17-year-old Mombasa student has received The Diana Award for going above and beyond his everyday life to create and sustain positive change.

The youth, who was selected for the Princess Diana Award was on Monday feted during the international youth day.

OTHER ARTICLES

Wendy Waeni's former manager

FKF boss denies claims

Shock and grief as man is

City woman charged with

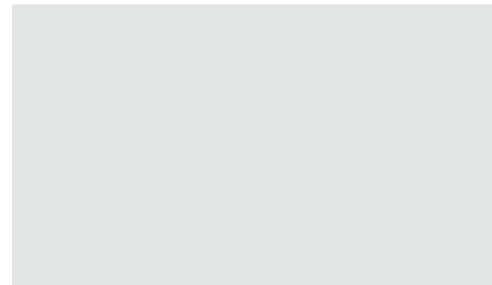

FKF boss denies claims of Kimari Zico

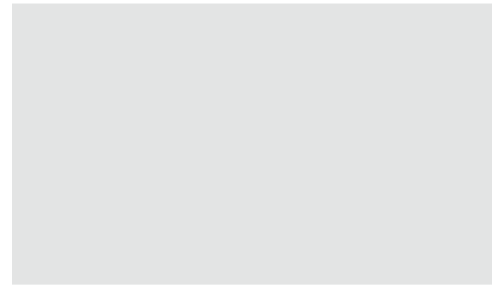

Shock and grief as man is

City woman charged with attempt to kill

Storm as MCSK pays music Sh2,5

City residence pays a Sh130 advert

REPUBLIC OF KENYA

IN THE ENVIRONMENT AND LAND COURT
KENYA AT NAKURU
ELC PETITION NO.12 OF 2018

SUBSTITUTED SERVICE BY ADVERTISEMENT

LEARN MORE ▶

Ziyaan Virji, a student of Aga Khan Academy in Mombasa won the prestigious award for his project for providing reusable sanitary towels to girls who cannot afford them and creating awareness to end menstrual poverty and stigma in different parts of the world.

The Diana Award, which celebrates its 20th anniversary this year, is considered one of the highest accolades for social action or humanitarian efforts that a young person can receive.

The 17-year-old student could not hide his joy when he received the award on Monday.

“I am honoured to be a recipient of this prestigious international award and I thank everyone who contributed to the success,” Ziyaan said.

It is through an initiative called Affordable and Accessible Sanitation for Women (AASW), that Ziyaan was recognized and awarded.

EMPOWER GIRLS

AASW aims to create and innovative opportunities to empower girls to access menstrual hygiene.

“In 2017, I researched about menstrual hygiene while working on my school personal project and I was shocked to find out that over 500 million girls across the world do not have access to the necessary menstrual health resources they require. After completing the school project, I decided to continue pursuing the

You

Sponsored Links by Taboola

May Like

A Browser that's 200% Faster than Chrome

browserguides.org

This Photo Has Not Been Edited, Look Closer At The Hole

Trendchaser

These Twins Were Named "Most Beautiful In The World," Wait Till You See...

Give It Love

Military Watch Everybody in Kenya is Talking About

Tact Watch

20 Foods That Are Killing You Slowly

healthyandpretty

New Website Finds the Cheapest Flights from Mombasa

Trips Shop

You

Sponsored Links by Taboola

May
Like

The government of Canada needs more workers from all over the world!

Canadian Visa Expert

A Browser that's 200% Faster than Chrome

browserguides.org

project,” Ziyaan said.

The final year student of the International Baccalaureate Diploma programme said the Academy has taught him a lot about the whole process of service.

“Especially the idea of the service cycle and thinking sustainably when reaching out to communities. This knowledge guided me in creating my unique model of approach”. Pluralism, Ethics and Civil Society are some of the unique elements woven into the Academies’ curriculum, which is designed to develop the skills and dispositions necessary for students to become the leaders of tomorrow,” he added.

Working together with fellow students and a group of women with disabilities called Tunaweza they produce and distribute sanitary packages that are reusable, cost effective and environmentally friendly.

“We produce and distribute reusable sanitary packages and equip girls with the necessary skills to give themselves and their communities access to menstrual hygiene. These packages last for up to three years. They are 100 percent biodegradable and cost between three to five dollars,” Ziyaan added.

FULL PACKAGE

A full package comprises of two wings/covers made

This Photo Has Not Been Edited, Look Closer At The Hole

Trendchaser

These Twins Were Named "Most Beautiful In The World," Wait Till You See...

Give It Love

Military Watch Everybody in Kenya is Talking About

Tact Watch

20 Foods That Are Killing You Slowly

healthyandpretty

from kitenge (African Fabric), eight cotton liners, two pairs of underwear, antiseptic soap, hand towel, waterproof bag, a booklet that talks about menstrual health and a calendar.

More than 300 girls in Kenya, Tanzania, Pakistan, India, Nigeria and the UAE have benefited from the project.

“We are going to create more networks in our social media platforms such as our Instagram and Facebook pages,” Ziyaan said.

Also AASW hold various interaction sessions with various schools. They have relationship and needs assessment workshops, education workshop, stitching workshop and celebration and review sessions.

The Diana Award was established 20 years ago and is given to inspirational young people from across the United Kingdom and around the world.

The award was founded in memory of Diana, Princess of Wales and inspired by her belief that young people can change the world. The award is supported by her sons, The Duke of Cambridge and The Duke of Sussex.

Nominees of the award must be aged between 9-25 and have been carrying out their activities for at least 12 months. They are judged on four criteria, namely vision, social impact, youth led, service journey and inspiring others.

Diana Award

Ziyaan Virji

Nairobi News is now available on WhatsApp. For handpicked stories every day, subscribe to our

 WhatsApp
channel

NAIROBINEWS

Nairobi News is the most trusted website in Kenya that provides the latest breaking news, entertainment news, sports news, showbiz and celebrity stories. will also keep you hooked with memes, gifs and funny videos.

Most Popular

Joe Mwangi in the soup as Mutula offers 'exploited' gymnast Wendy Waeni free legal services

August 9th, 2019

Don't Miss

Wendy Waeni's former manager speaks out on bitter fallout with his protégé

August 14th, 2019

MCA halts debate in county assembly

FKF boss denies claims of Kimanzi-Zico takeover of Harambee Stars bench with malodorous fart after lunch break

August 8th,
2019

August 14th, 2019

Shock and grief as man is exhumed to recover service uniform

August 14th, 2019

Same bus, same murder routine:
Matatu crew arrested for 'pushing' passenger to death

August 10th, 2019

Copyright © 2019 Nation Media Group. All rights reserved.

City woman charged with attempt to kill

Shock and grief as man is exhume